

In 1919, after military service, I was employed as a stenographer by Dr. McGuire in the International High Commission, in the Treasury Department Building, in preparation for the Second Pan American Financial Congress, which met in January 1920. He was in charge of the full preparation for the Conference and had as his top assistant Dr. Guillermo A. Sherwell. I entered the FSS in the winter of 1919-20. Dr. Sherwell was my Spanish teacher. A few months ago the "Maryknoll" Missionary Magazine published two quotations from Dr. Sherwell's Life of Simon Bolivar, 1921 Washington. It reminded me of the book and I wrote to my long-time friend Miss Grace Hamelin of Whitman, Massachusetts, about it and she sent me the copy of Dr. Sherwell had presented to her. She had done the original dictation and typing of the mss. for him. It was Miss Hamelin who took the original memorandum on the Foreign Service School suggestion from Dr. McGuire. I found her initials on the original carbon which I turned over to Dr. Coutinho. If the GU Library does not have Dr. Sherwell's book, I am sure that Miss Hamelin will be glad to have it repose there.

very truly yours,
